CLOUD AUTOMATION

Build a resilient IT infrastructure powered by intelligent automation

BUSINESSES ARE BEING TESTED LIKE NEVER BEFORE

The modern-day business enterprise is often challenged with the task of managing a sprawling, heterogeneous environment with multiple modes of operations. While the Cloud itself has the power to cater to the growing demand for IT resilience, managing cloud services is a hassle as it involves dealing with a complicated mesh of multiple manual processes and workflows.

According to a McKinsey report, Cloud automation, through its “self-healing” nature of standard solutions, increases service quality, delivering benefits such as:

70%

reduction of IT incidents and higher productivity

30-40%

lower IT overhead costs

The Challenge

The majority of enterprises are managing services manually, which:

Are time-intensive and incur
unnecessary costs

Are riddled with inefficiencies such as tedious server
configuration or
network setup

Result in lower productivity and costly management
of cloud services
